

Marques de Laula

Red Stag are also available in the Nalchik Area and some nice bulls have been harvested. A 3 to 5 day add-on hunt will be required during the rut in late September. Fallow Deer @ $1500, Boar at $800-$1500 depending on the tusk size and Bear @ $3,000 + the cost of the CITES permit and other paperwork of $600.

Caucasian Chamois

If you would like to hunt Caucasian Chamois, it is now necessary to book a separate 5 day hunt. Chamois are found in the same region as the Kuban Tur, but new camps must be set.

The Chamois stay in the timber through September, so the best time to hunt will be in October. It is possible to combine a Kuban Tur with a Chamois hunt but ample time must be reserved.

A Caucasian Chamois hunt is available at $6,200.

Toby Johnson, WY

Corporate Headquarters:
410 W. Yellowstone Ave.
Cody, WY USA 82414
Tel: 307.587.5596
Fx: 307.587.2265
Email: hunt@safari1.com
www.safari1.com

01/11

Field Office:
Russia:
safari@aha.ru

KUBAN TUR MID-CAUCASIAN TUR CAUCASIAN CHAMOIS

Hunt the famed Caucasus Mountains in Russia. These are traditional hunts conducted by horseback. You will enjoy spectacular scenery as a bonus.

The Kuban Tur hunt is less physically demanding than the Dagestan Tur or Mid-Caucasian Tur hunts, but you must still be fit. Horses are utilized during the hunt and the terrain difficulty is considered moderate.

Rates: for a 7-day Kuban Tur or a 7-day Mid-Caucasian Tur Hunts are $11,500 each.

Time Frame: Our Kuban and Mid-Caucasian Tur hunts will be conducted from mid-September through mid-October.

The Tur are found in a relatively small area of the Caucasus Mountains - which are considered the most difficult mountains in the world. You really must be in "sheep shape" for these hunts.

Hunting Season: The season is from August 1 to November 10. We consider September 1 to October 15 as the best time.

Elevation/Camps: Camps are generally set in the 5,000 foot range but expect to hunt up to about 9,000 feet. You will be accommodated in spike camps.

Weather: The weather is typical mountain climate - very unpredictable. August can be very warm and it begins to cool down in September. Daytime highs are 75-80F with lows of 35-40F. From mid-September through mid-October, expect snow and temperatures of 50F with overnight lows of 15-20F.

Method of Hunting: You will hunt via horseback and on foot. These mountains are rugged, so it is imperative that you are in good shape. Expect extensive walking in moderate to difficult terrain.

Kuban & Mid-Caucasian

Included:

- 10-day schedule from arrival in Moscow with 7 hunting days
- 1x1 guide
- One English speaking interpreter provided per camp. Interpreters typically do not accompany a hunter in the field.
- Horseback transfers to base camp
- Hunt conducted via walking and hiking (be in good shape-this is a tough hunt)
- Accommodations in basic tented camp

Not Included:

- Moscow firearm permit and transfers airport/hotel/airport, ($550)
- Moscow/Mineralni Vodi (Kuban) RTair or Moscow/Nalchik (Mid-Caucasian) RT air, ($400)
- Gratuities
- Russian visa, ($250)
- Hotels in Moscow before/after your hunt. 4-5 star hotels at ($350/ night +).

Clarence "Doc" Ellis, WY
Itinerary (Kuban Tur):

- Day 1 Arrive Moscow. You will be met and assisted with customs and firearm formalities.
- Day 2 Flight to Mineralni Vodi. Drive to the central base camp near Cherkessk. You will sight in your rifles and overnight.
- Day 3 Drive by 4x4, 15 hrs, then transfer by horseback, 3 hrs., to fly camp in the mountains.
- Day 4-10 7-day hunt
- Day 11 Return to Cherkessk & overnight
- Day 12 Flight to Moscow/overnight in hotel
- Day 13 Depart for home.

Itinerary (Mid-Caucasian Tur):

- Day 1 Arrive Moscow. You will be met and assisted with customs and firearm formalities.
- Day 2 Flight to Nalchik - transfer to spike camp.
- Day 3-9 7-day hunt
- Day 10 Return to Nalchik & fly to Moscow/overnight in hotel.
- Day 11 Depart for home.