DAGESTAN TUR

Breaking Records... it's what we do!

Dr. Mike Adams, LA

Our area in Azerbaijan provides the best hunting we've EVER had. Over 500 trophy tur were seen by our hunters during the course of their hunt with some hunters seeing up to 200 tur per day. There is exceptional organization and trophies up to and over 40" are possible.

As always, you will be accompanied by Sasha from our Moscow office – to assure you of the best hunting possible.

This is the ONLY place on the planet where you can stalk your Tur. No driven hunts are necessary. Be in good shape and be prepared for a fantastic hunt.

Dagestan Tur (Capra cylindricornis) is considered by many scientists to be a link between wild sheep and goats. The Dagestan Tur inhabit the Caucasus Mountains of southeastern Russia and the northern part of Azerbaijan. Color is uniformly reddish-brown in summer. Chin, tip of tail, and front lower legs are blackish. There is a small white area on the rump. Beard is dark and very short. The horns are smooth and rounded, curving above and behind the neck. Tur hunting is very challenging and one of the most coveted big game trophies in the world.

The mountains are rugged - so, be in good shape for this hunt. Hunting will be done on foot and horseback.

SEASON:

The season is from June 1 to November 30. We conduct our hunts in June and early July.

PRICE:

The price of this hunt is $11,900 (2x2) from Baku (excluding visas and hotels/meals, as needed). Upon arrival in Baku, you are met by our English-speaking Team Safari representative and transferred to camp by vehicle and horse.

New CITES regulations require export permit of $1,000 and shipping of trophies (approx. $1400).
