

Hunt prices DO NOT include: hotels as needed, visa fee, commercial flight to Tilichik/Korf, excess baggage fees, tips, items of a personal nature or gratuities

Hunt price DOES include: escort from Petro by a Safari staff member, guide (1x1), accommodations while in hunt area, meals while in camp, trophy prep, paperwork for export and etc.

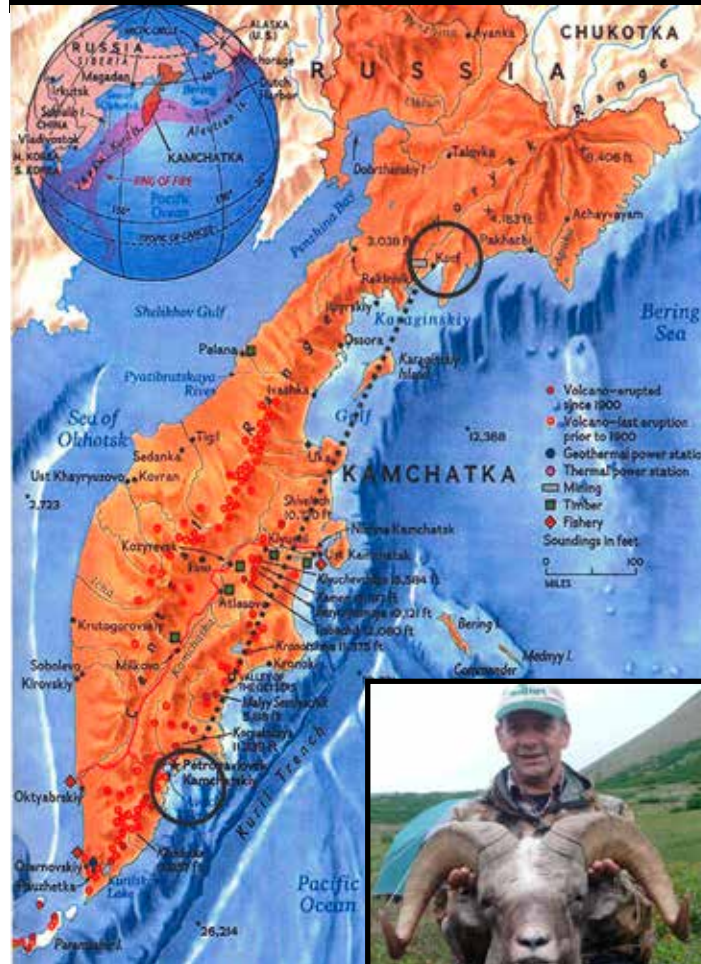

If you are adventurous and enjoy boldly going where few others have ventured this is the hunt for you! The only way in/out of this area is by helicopter. There are NO roads in this part of the world. There are a few small villages scattered throughout this remote region that are inhabited by the native Koryak people who live off the land and tend to their reindeer herds.

Breaking Records... it's what we do!

Sheep hunts are based from remote camps in the Vetveyskiy Mountains. Elevations of these mountains are relatively low, reaching only about 5000 feet.

The terrain consists of mostly low, rolling type country. All hunting is done on foot from basic, but comfortable tent camps. Rams in this area will be in the 35-38" class. Hunts take place in August and early September.

The jumping off point is Petropovlovsk on Kamchatka. From there, we utilize regular airline flights to Tilichiki.

SCHEDULE

This hunt is based on a 15-day schedule from the U.S., with up to 10 full hunting days.

- Day - 1 Depart U.S. (Anchorage)
- Day - 2 Arrive Petropovlovsk AM. If commercial airline schedules jive, you will fly commercially from Petropovlovsk to Tilichiki.
- Day - 3 Helicopter to hunting area
- Day - 4 to 10-day Koryak Sheep Hunt
- Day -13 Helicopter return to Tilichiki/overnight
- Day - 15 Return to Petropovlovsk & fly commercially back to Anchorage

*Due to limited internal flights, hunt days may be shortened to 9 days.

Due to the difficult logistics and the extremely remote nature of this hunting area, there have been only a handful of hunters that have ventured into this region. Sheep populations are strong and there is an excellent opportunity for big rams. All hunting is done on foot from a tented base camp. You and your guide may fly camp in the hunting area for a night or two, depending on where sheep are being seen. Success rate is 100%.
